This course focuses on the history and theories of literacy, examining its various definitions and practices. We will pay particular attention to the role of literacy in school, the workplace, and society. Students strongly advised to take WRTG 2010 or equivalent prior to this course.