

WRTG 4850

TECHNICAL EDITING

Spring 2022 TuTh 2:00pm - 3:20pm

Principles and practices of technical editing are the focus of this course. Students will explore the roles of technical editors in manuscript preparation of both hard copy and digital texts. Students will also learn strategies for different levels of copyediting, including comprehensive copyediting and line editing, using both practice documents and texts for a client.

Students from related disciplines welcome.

Students must take WRTG 2010 or equivalent prior to taking this course.