

Technical Editing

WRTG 4850

STUDENTS FROM RELATED DISCIPLINES WELCOME

Principles and practices of technical editing are the focus of this course. Students will explore the roles of technical editors in manuscript preparation of both hard copy and digital texts. Students will also learn strategies for different levels of copyediting, including comprehensive copyediting and line editing, using both practice documents and texts for a client.

Students must take WRTG 2010 or equivalent before taking this course
